

Newmarket Journal 19th May 2005

Fair marks opening of new facility

Bottisham Primary School's annual May Fair kicked off on Sunday with the opening of a new play area for the school's youngest pupils.

The opening marked the end of year long programme of works including the installation of sand pits, play equipment and a canopy.

Headteacher Chrissy Barclay said: "This will mean the three to five year olds will be able to go outside in all weathers, fair or foul, and be able to do activities outside.

We have also built two new doors into the two adjoining classrooms so the different classes can both separately access that area."

She added: "We are absolutely delighted with it and everybody has worked really hard to make it work."